Business planning can be time consuming to create and can become obsolete as situations change. This guidebook, The One-Page Strategic Plan: Business Planning Made Simple, teaches you strategic planning made simple, fast, and effective.

Values • Vision • Unique Value Proposition

What do you find challenging about strategic planning?

- it should be a quick and easy process
 - too much detail makes it hard to incorporate changes
- it should be flexible
- it should provide clarity and insight into your law firm
- it should help you take control of your firm and your future

The one-page strategic plan

At the top: Vision, Values and UVP (Unique Value Proposition)

Clients choose you for specific reasons; you must discover what those reasons are

• you can ask clients why they chose you

What is the one thing you want to improve or change to create your perfect practice what is the first step you can take to move yourself in this direction?

Some things on the one-page strategic plan will change, others should not

- your vision, values, UVP, and strengths shouldn't change
- but some things happen-revenue goals, for instance, might change

If you find yourself changing the statement every month or quarter, you should think about redoing it

When your firms is making progress, strengths remain the same, but weaknesses might change or new threats arise
